

I would just like to say how much I appreciate captioning on my TV. It has made quite a difference for me to understand what is being said and increased the quality of my life. I wish it was available on all rprograms and films, also.